Philippines win Under 20s Asian Championships Division 2

2009 Philippine National Under 20's Team and Coaching staff after the victory against Pakistan

The Philippines U/20 National Rugby Union Team made it a clean sweep by defeating Pakistan at Nomads Sports Complex on Saturday. The young Filipino team proved once again that Rugby Union is a sport that Filipinos can win and convincingly won the final game of the week long tournament by 46-3. Such was the dominance of the Philippines team over their opponents; in all three games that the Philippines scored a total of 128 points and only had 6 points scored against them. These 6 points came in the form of penalty conversions, meaning that Laos, Iran and Pakistan were unable to score a try against the rock solid Pinoy defense.

Ned Stephenson breaking through Pakistan's defense

The final game against Pakistan proved that the Philippines were the deserved winners of this year's Asian U/20s' championships. Again, it was the midfield partnership of Captain Ben Saunders and Ned Stephenson that dominated the game. Ben once again scored the opening try of the final game, with Ned Stephenson scoring the next two tries and then splitting the Pakistan defense to shreds to set up Andrew Farrar for a hat trick of tries. Ned Stephenson was also awarded best back for the match.

The Philippine team forward pack who was lead by Graem Stevenson totally dominated the Pakistan Team at the rucks, mauls and line outs and it was local Faith schoolboy Tim Van Weerdhuizen that was awarded the best forward trophy. Tim was supported by Orlando Olivera, Fergus Mitra and Brian Liston who all attend local International Schools in Manila.

This year's victorious U/20s series win will allow the National Team to compete in the U/20s Division 1 Asian Championships in 2010 and with 18 of the 24 players for that team will be from this super side. Coaches Matt Cullen and Grant Rice are confident of upsetting teams at the top level of Asian Countries.

Ben Saunders the Philippine Team Captain was awarded the player of the Series. At the age of 17, he will be a dominant player in the future Philippine Under 20's and men's teams.

The Philippine Rugby Football Union would like to thank all the PRFU sponsors and supporters who were on hand to enjoy the triumphant victory of the Philippine National Under20s team at this year's Asian Championships.

Rugby Union is alive and well in the Philippines.

Philippine Barbarians Take Bowl Championship

For the second consecutive year, the Philippine Barbarians (PRFU North America) braved the cold weather of the prestigious New York Sevens and not only walked away with the Premiere Division Bowl Championship, but gave one of the top Sevens sides in the United States a run for its money. Coached by Philippine Nat'l Team player Austin Dacanay and Retired Nat'l Team player Clay Luraschi, the Barbarians featured a core of three young and very talented Filipino players. A combination of the recently-capped Kenny Stern, Stanford University's Daniel Ibarra and University of British Columbia's Rain De Guzman kept the player's and fan's attention all day.

"It's truly amazing how we just keep uncovering these talented Filipino players all over the world," said Luraschi. "Our National Team has a very bright future."

The climax came when heavily-favored North Virginia RFC (NOVA), the eventual tourney champions, stepped onto the pitch with the likes of Filimoni Botitu (Fiji Nat'l Team), Thretton Palamo (U.S. Nat'l Team), PJ Komomgnan (U.S. Nat'l Team) and many more previously capped players. With no fear, the Barbarians engaged in a back and forth affair with NOVA through the first half that included standout tries by Stern and Ibarra. Nova eventually pulled away, but it was not an easy win for one of top U.S. teams.

The Bowl Championship game, which saw the Barbos handle a select-side from New England, saw more great play from last returners Roderigus Ceasar, Adil Manari and newcomers Seth Kolkas (Captain), Matt McGinnis and Neal Champ.

The Barbarians, which missed qualifying for the 2010 USA Championships by just one try, was also fueled by returners Vincent Petisme, Cheung Kan and Kimani Davis.

Philippine National 7's Tour :

Brunei 7's

With players coming from all over the world and with only a one and a half hour training run as a full team the Saturday morning of the tournament. The Philippine National 7s Rugby team's runners-up performance at the Brunei Rugby 7s on the 24th and 25th October was a great result.

The players' skills, commitment and dedication were evident in their first game against India, who had previously participated in the September Shanghai Rugby 7s and trained in South Africa's famous Stellenbosch Rugby Academy, which has many retired Springbok Internationals in their training staff.

The second match was against host nation Brunei where the Philippines rugby skills and flair was on show, defeating the host convincingly 35 - 0. With Captain Oliver Saunders leading his players well in the field, new International John Odulio, who has only been playing Rugby Union in the Philippines for the last 5 months scored two tries on debut.

The final match of the day was against tournament favorites Malaysia, who were last year's Asian Rugby Football Union (ARFU) Rugby 7s regional champion at the Sri Lanka Rugby 7s. With only the one training run as a whole team in the morning of this tournament the final score of 36 - 5 against the Philippines showed the minimal preparation the team had against a high quality, well-drilled and skillful Rugby 7s team. The players came away from this match learning a lot from the experience.

The second day of the tournament saw the Philippines' final pool match against Laos, where the teams' size, skill and flair showed in the final score of 48 - 0 and players Andrew Wolff, Kenneth Stern and new International Cleo Gomez scoring a brace of tries each.

In the 1st Semi-final of Day 2, the Philippines again played India for a spot in the Final of the tournament. Again the Philippine's players put their bodies on the line with hard tackling and hit ups, forcing the Indians backwards.

The Philippines went into the finals with only 10 men to Malaysia's 12 and more significantly, with only 2 of their 4 forwards fit for the show down.

Rookie Johnny Odulio showing stellar performance on debut

Kenneth stern on the charge

The Philippines' lack of players and training time did not show as the crowd witnessed a game, fit for a final. All were on their feet cheering and in awe of the match with the final score of 28 -7. It was not a true reflection of how close the game was for the Philippines. Again Veteran International Noel Flowers scored the only try for the Philippines, making it a habit of scoring in crucial matches, with Juan Engelbrecht converting the try.

Borneo 7s

The Philippine Rugby Football Union (PRFU) team that attended the Borneo Rugby 7s tournament was ranked 10th amongst 12 countries and showed a number of Asia's Rugby power houses that they were competitive and could play Rugby.

The Philippines were seeded last in their group, in Pool C with China, Chinese Taipei and India ranked above them.

Philippines continued their strong form and gave up just 14 points to China in its opening match. The Chinese team was well drilled and skillful in the art of rugby 7s. However, the Philippines' commitment to strong defense kept China from scoring in the second half.

The team's next game was against Chinese-Taipei who was seeded second in the pool, and is ranked 7th amongst Asia's 24 Rugby playing nations with the Philippines yet to receive an official IRB ranking.

The Philippine Volcanoes upset the formbook in this match scoring four tries to one, shocking Chinese-Taipei and the rugby world by beating one of the favorites, 24-5. The Philippines attacking flair was on show in this match with the players executing all their plays with precision and skill. Their running and passing continually asked questions of the Chinese-Taipei defense. With Harry Morris scored a hat trick of tries and Darran Seeto scored a 70 meter try as the whistle blew showing that the team was still relentless in attack at the end.

If the game against the pool's second seed was flamboyant the Philippines final pool game against India, who they had beaten twice at the Brunei 7s, was a dour affair. The team went into the match overconfident off a victory and the last week's results. The Philippines played into India's strength in set pieces trying to outmuscle the Indians in rucks and mauls, with India's superior play forcing errors amongst the Philippine players. Harry Morris was yellow carded earlier on in the first half through an infringement, leaving the Philippines with only 6 men on the field. Harry later redeemed himself scoring the only try of the 1st half upon his return.

India maintained pressure on the Philippines line through their rucking and mauling forcing the Philippines into more undisciplined play, resulting in Kenneth Stern being Yellow carded. With only 6 men left on the field the Indians finally scored the equalizer under the post ending the match 7 all.

the team huddle as the Philippine 7s team get ready to take on Asia's top rugby teams

The Philippines came second in their pool after day 1 with a win, a draw and a loss giving them the opportunity to play Asia's best rugby teams on the second day in the quarter finals of the Cup Championship rounds.

The second day saw the Philippines up against the tournament's second seed South Korea, who are ranked third overall in Asia. The Koreans exploited their superior speed with quick cut out passes to their wings early in the first half to score two quick tries which put the Philippines on the back foot. But the Philippines kept on fighting and would have been in the match if not for a disallowed try under the post through an obstruction call in the 1st half.

The Philippines maintained their fighting spirit in the second half with strong defense keeping the Koreans to two unconverted tries, with another disallowed try to the Philippines through a forward pass, which would have made the dying moments of the match interesting, if the Philippines had been able to convert their early opportunities. The game ended with a final score of 22 – 0 .

With the loss in the quarterfinals of the Cup Division, the Philippines were relegated to the Plate Championship rounds. Here they had to face Thailand, who had beaten them two years earlier for the Gold at the 24th South East Asian (SEA) Games. With some veteran players still in this side from the 2007 SEA games, they saw this as an opportunity to exact revenge for that second placing.

The Thais had no answer to the Philippines strength and tactical play with the team playing a true game of Rugby 7s, running hard and moving the ball around the field amongst its players to find the gaps and cut through Thailand's defense to score four tries to their one. Harry Morris again scored another two tries for the Philippines, and both Rafael Zappia and Kenneth Stern scored one a piece for a final score of 20-7.

This set up the Philippines for a rematch against China in the final of the Plate who had beaten Guam 31-15 earlier on in the day to set up the Plate Championship rematch.

The team went into the final confident that they could match it with the Chinese after holding them off to a 14 -0 score line in the previous days pool rounds. But China had stepped up a gear for this match seeing that the Philippines were vulnerable in the wings as shown by the Koreans earlier on in the day. China adopted the same play against them and scored through the wings or the gaps in the middle to comprehensively romp home 34-0 in the final even kicking a field goal when the final hooter blew to show their dominance in the final.

The Philippines started the Borneo 7s ranked 10th in the tournament amongst 12 competing nations and finished it moving up 4 places to sixth, an achievement considering the country had previously no ranking and were only participating in their second Asian Rugby 7s event.

Dave and Phil Gittus: Great Supporters of Rugby Development in the Philippines

Over the last decade, the PRFU can be thankful for a number of great supporters and sponsors who have generously given up their time, resources and finances to ensure that the development of Rugby Union has continued to grow here in the Philippines. Two of these people are the father-and-son combination of Dave and Phil Gittus.

Dave Gittus lives in Newport, England and has been a lifelong supporter of the Newport (Salop) Rugby Union Club that play in the Midlands regional competition in England. Dave has a passion for supporting and promoting Rugby Union and when his son Phil moved to the Philippines and became involved in the PRFU, Dave asked, "How can I help?"

One of the annual PRFU main fundraising events is the Manila 10s Lunch Auction and over the last decade, Dave has journeyed far beyond the Newport Rugby Club to ask famous English International Rugby Players to sign jerseys and shirts to donate to the PRFU Auction. Dave has travelled to the Philippines to visit his son's family and has always taken a keen interest in the Development of juniors. Most recently, Dave visited the Tuloy Foundation and witnessed firsthand how the PRFU were conducting coaching clinics with up to 40 orphans.

Dave was inspired by what he saw. He returned to Newport England on a mission to help the orphans in the Philippines learn the sport that he has loved all his life. Dave recently sent a donation of Php14000 to the Duyan ni Maria Orphanage and has been collecting Rugby kit from a range of local junior clubs that he will send over to kit out the PRFU orphan teams, that include Bahay Bata, Tuloy and the Duyan ni Maria Orphanage.

PRFU Service Awardee,
Dave Gittus

Not to be outdone by his father, Phillip (as his dad calls him) has worked above and beyond the call of duty at all levels to ensure the sport of Rugby Union excels in this country. Phil was initially based at Nomads Rugby Club and Captained the Nomads Rugby Team. Later, Phil became an active member of the PRFU Board and was instrumental in helping the PRFU becoming both associate and finally full members of the IRB .

Phil's passion for Rugby certainly did not stop at the board room and he continually represented the PRFU in various roles, from National Team Manager (2005-2008), National Team Coach (U/20s, Men's) and National Team Player v Guam in 2007 and scored a try on debut and has finished this distinguished career by being elected the PRFU A5N representative Referee in 2009.

Official PRFU Match official and dedicated rugby supporter, Phil Gittus

Both Phil and Dave have given generously to ensure the Rugby Union has thrived in the Philippines and the PRFU recently acknowledged Dave Gittus with a Service Award as appreciation for his contributions to the PRFU. I am certain that Phil will strive to become equal with Dave and be a recipient of a PRFU award in the near future.

To the Father-and-Son combination of Dave and Phil Gittus, the PRFU forward a sincere heartfelt thank you for all your efforts in developing Rugby Union in the Philippines over the decade.

Philippine Rugby Football Union Makes its Mark at the 9th IRB General Assembly

As Full IRB Members, The Philippine Rugby Football Union were invited to attend the 9th IRB General Assembly in Dublin, Ireland for a two day conference on November 29th / 30th

It was decided that Matt Cullen, the PRFU Consultant and National Coach would attend this International Event. It was much surprise and astonishment that two weeks prior to the IRB conference the PRFU received a request to make a presentation at the conference :Topic: "Road to Success" (How to become a full IRB member)

Like a true rugby player, the PRFU accepted the challenge and set to the task of reviewing the last decade of PRFU Rugby Development here in the Philippines. This proved to be an eye opening experience, when only 5 years ago the only Philippine National Men's team consisted of 13 expats (USA, Australia, PNG, France, England, Kenya) and (And two Filipinos Paolo Ocampo of Nomads and Jasper Ching of MAAP Warriors)

2004 Philippine National Team

2009 Philippine National Team

It is amazing to now see the 2009 Men's A5N team with the complete opposite stats, 21 Filipinos and 3 expats.

Philippines Rugby has come a long way since the Nomads began the sport that was mainly focused on expats playing social rugby at Nomads Sports Club every Saturday afternoon.

It was inspirational to be invited to the IRB conference as the only country to make a presentation to the 150 IRB Delegates, including the IRB President and IOC member Bernard Lapasset, the function of this presentation was two fold

- 1) To show that the sport of Rugby Union can be developed in a third world country and that the Philippines achieved full IRB membership during the Economic Crisis.
- 2) To show the more developed and current members that already receive substantial IRB grants that the Philippines are achieving all the IRB Full membership criteria and more!!

Fortunately the PRFU presentation was a huge success and received a full round of applause from all the IRB delegates. A copy of the PRFU presentation that was made to the IRB conference can be viewed at (www.prfu.com)

PRFU FEATURED PLAYER:

Name: Ned Stephenson

Nickname: Big Ned, Stephenson Show, Jacob (from twilight)

Age: 17

Date of Birth: June 11, 1992

Current City: Green Valley , Sydney , Australia

Heritage: Australian/Filipino

Team: Mounties

Position Played: Centre, Fullback, Wing

Rugby Hero: Mark Gasnier

Interesting Skill: being interestingly skilled naturally at what ever I do!

Why RUGBY ? Since I was young I loved playing. I like a Challenge and Rugby pushes myself to train harder and be better. After playing 3 years of league my first real serious game of Rugby union was representing the Philippines in the U20s which is such a great feeling to know your representing your heritage and making a difference.

Ned began playing Rugby at school for fun during recess and lunch. This is when his mate asked him to come play for a club team, he wasn't really interested at first since he never really played sports when he was younger or knew much about rugby. He decided he would play that year and since then he built a passion for the game and is now playing at representative levels. For the 3 years, Ned played League and when he found out about a Philippines rugby union team he was lucky enough to be given the opportunity to represent his heritage and challenge himself in a different code and at an international level.
